About Our Company:

Sophia's Naturals began in 2009 and was started by the Evans Family. We are a small family business based in Jonesboro, GA that offers natural, handmade vegan soaps, bath and body care products. Our children Sophia and Noah are the namesakes of the company and the reason behind our brand. Our goal is to provide skincare products for the entire family that are natural, sustainable, vegan, and eco-friendly. Every product is made from scratch and by hand using raw, fresh, natural ingredients. Sophia's Naturals offers cold process vegan soaps, paraben free lotions, sugar scrubs, bath soaks, body butters, candles and beard care products for. Our skincare products can be found online at www.SophiasNaturals.com, Etsy, Amazon or at their retail location at 9442 South Main Street Jonesboro, GA 30236.

About the Owners:

How the Journey into Soap Making Began:

As a new parent, I remember bringing our children home and giving them the "first bath". We were both so nervous and cautious. We had done our research beforehand and made sure that we picked the mildest soap, shampoo and bath care products for our babies. So, we put them in the tub and began to wash them and their hair. With Sophia, I noticed that she had a horrible reaction with her skin and hair. Her hair felt rough and did not have the baby softness it had to it before. Her skin was covered red patches and she began to develop dry spots. This was the scariest moment of my life.

Of course, we panicked like crazy and immediately called our pediatrician who informed us that she had an allergic reaction and advised us to try natural products. At the time, our children were born there were not that many natural products (that were mainstream) that were vegan or palm free. It literally was the worst feeling in the world knowing that our children were suffering from these products and it felt like there was nothing we could do. Until one day after speaking with my mother.

She had told me that when she grew up my grandmother did everything from scratch including making soap. With those words, it felt as if my grandmother was speaking to me through my mom. I immediately began to research how to make soaps and natural body care products. We researched and tested until creating the many products that we sell today. We are proud to say that our children no longer suffer from any of these issues which is a blessing. We even make products for my grandmother's oldest living best friend who loves our products and to me that is the biggest seal of approval.

Our company has grown from making products just for our family to making products for families across the world. In May 2014, we opened our very first retail brick and mortar store in Jonesboro, Georgia. Customers can find our products at our retail shop or online at our website www.SophiasNaturals.com, Etsy, or Amazon.

"We like to think that we are changing the way people think about natural body care products one soap bar at a time!"

Our Charity Work:

Sophia's Naturals is a small family based business but we believe in giving back. Each quarter we donate many of our soaps to families in the US and abroad. Our products are donated to local shelters and to Clean the World. Local shelters use our products to help families that are in transition. Clean the World recycles our soaps and provides them to countries that do not have access to soap.
